NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The news from Vermont was tabbed "O. K." by the traders and given due consideration as a most promising "straw," indicative of the direction of the wind in November. The stock market had its strong spots and its weak spots. Manipulation was still in evidence and the same nervous uncertainty as to the right time to follow and the right time to get out and in again, exists.

One Harriman continues to hold the One Harriman continues to sold the course of two stocks, perhaps more, in the hollow of his hand. Southern Pacific, and Union Pacific, the old leaders, under his steady inflation, continue to move upward, at the risk of becoming as lonely as the joker in a deck of cards, for the rest of the market does not follow.

The public holds some stocks, but not of the market does not follow.

The public holds some stocks, but not many. The outsiders seem to have missed their market and are still missing it. This is an evidence of the caution that was well founded and rightly grounded. Without Harriman and his allies there can be little or no question that the stock market would now be many points lower in a natural discounting of the elections of November—sixty days hence. Bold manipulation has come to lack public support and favor.

November—sixty days hence. Bold manipulation has come to lack public support and favor.

Nevertheless, manipulation has been successful, and this is the main point in the play of the professional traders. The initial trading this morning was at $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ point advance, and Veamont was responsible. Southern Pacific was the leader and Union Pacific was the leader and Union Pacific was the leader and Union Pacific at one time $\frac{1}{2}$ higher, Reading, Northwestern, Northern Pacific, and Canadian Pacific were other market leaders. Soo and Brooklyn Rapid Transit, the former because of the best fiscal year in its history, were very firm. In the industrial list, Consolidated Gas, with a point rise, and Steel, with $\frac{1}{2}$, were the only active leaders, the rest of the list being sadly neglected.

Mr. Gates was in evidence yesterday in B. R. T. and Reading. The movement yesterday was taken to mean some good news coming out, but today it was found that John W. was under it. This activity has led to the belief among many that it is about time to take profits. It is commented on as significant that the Gates party should enter Reading when it is $60 points above the low point. They seem to feel that the present boom is well founded, and that prices are about low enough for a start. It adds another manipulator to the market. As a result of their buying Reading added another point to its price today.

manipulated stocks showed any strength. The flurry in the industrials, cause unknown, unless a case of profit-taking, caused some uneasiness, and this was evidenced even in the manipulated securities. Southern Pacific held fairly well, but Union Pacific dropped back 1½ points, while still holding part of its earlier gain. Reading, too, lost most of its advantage.
